

Intro

Ladies and gentlemen,

It is now my privilege to introduce someone who has, and continues to leave their mark on the world of Jewish journalism.

She currently serves as editor-in-chief of Tablet Magazine—the online magazine for Jewish culture, news, and ideas she founded in 2003.

She is also the author of The 100 Most Jewish Foods, a project that included contributions from leading chefs, including Galilee Culinary Institute by JNF advisory council member, Michael Solomonov.

In addition to her work in the Jewish literary world, she is a regular contributor to The New York Times, among other outlets, and serves on award juries for both the American Society of Magazine Editors and the Pulitzer Prizes.

Friends, it gives me great pleasure to welcome one of the Jewish world's leading journalists, Alana Newhouse.

100 word

Alana Newhouse is the founder and editor-in-chief of Tablet Magazine—the online magazine for Jewish culture, news, and ideas. Newhouse is also the author of The 100 Most Jewish Foods, a list of foods culturally and historically significant to the Jewish people explored through essays, recipes, and stories.

Prior to founding Tablet, Newhouse served as culture editor of The Forward. She also started a line of Forward-branded books with W.W. Norton.

Newhouse is a regular contributor to The New York Times and serves on award juries for both the American Society of Magazine Editors and the Pulitzer Prizes.

50 word

Alana Newhouse is the founder and editor-in-chief of Tablet Magazine—the online magazine for Jewish culture, news, and ideas. Newhouse is also a regular contributor to The New York Times and serves on award juries for both the American Society of Magazine Editors and the Pulitzer Prizes.