

Amotz Asa-El Introduction

Ladies and gentlemen, it's now my privilege to introduce you to a man that has traveled the world to share the Israeli perspective...

He is a veteran journalist, who is the former executive editor of The Jerusalem Post, and continues to be the publication's leading commentator on Israeli, Middle Eastern, and Jewish affairs, in addition to serving as a Middle East commentator for The Wall Street Journal...

He is a staunch supporter of Israel, who is an executive board member of the Paris-based Alliance Israelite, the oldest international Jewish organization in the world working to safeguard the human rights of Jews worldwide...

And he is a renowned speaker, who has traveled the world addressing diplomats, legislators, and business leaders on issues relating to Middle Eastern, international, and Jewish affairs.

Ladies and gentleman, please welcome journalist Amotz Asa-El.