

Bari Weiss Intro

Ladies and gentlemen, it is now my privilege to introduce you to a high-profile media professional...

She is an accomplished journalist, who is a staff editor for the New York Times opinion page, and who was an op-ed editor as well as an associate book review editor at The Wall Street Journal.

She is a respected voice on Jewish and Israeli issues, who was senior editor at Tablet, a popular online magazine covering Jewish news, politics, and culture, and has written for Haaretz and The Forward.

And she is a passionate thought leader, who won the Reason Foundation's 2018 Bastiat (BAS-TEE-YAT) Prize, which annually honors writing that "best demonstrates the importance of freedom with originality, wit, and eloquence."

Pick up this month's Vanity Fair, where Weiss is profiled as the Times "star opinion writer"

Her first book, which could not be more timely, is called "How to Fight Anti-Semitism." It's out this September.

Ladies, please welcome a master of the written word, Bari Weiss
