

David Lehrer Introduction

Ladies and Gentlemen,

Now it's my privilege to introduce you to one of Israel's most respected environmental experts...

He has worked as a business consultant, for the United Kibbutz Movement, the Hevel Eilat Regional Council, Kibbutzim and Industries

His research includes the study of the effectiveness of environmental management systems and the future of sustainable development at the Dead Sea. He is currently pursuing a doctorate at Ben-Gurion University, studying the economic costs of nature conservation in Israel.

David is one of the founders of the Alliance for Middle East Peace, which brings together over 90 peace-building organizations throughout the region.

Ladies and Gentlemen, please welcome the Executive Director of the Arava Institute for Environmental Studies, a Jewish National Fund partner, David Lehrer.
