

Ladies and gentlemen, it's now my privilege to introduce you to one of JNF's most passionate and dedicated lay leaders...

She is the best-selling author of Unfiltered: How To Be As Happy As You Look On Social Media. She is a powerhouse philanthropist, who has helped raise more than a million dollars for the Jewish community and others by organizing her own charitable events and running in marathons...

She is a seasoned media personality, whose work as a television journalist and digital correspondent has reached millions of people around the world...

And she is a social justice champion, who, as United Synagogue Youth's first-ever Danny Siegel Changemaker-in-Residence, has toured high schools across the country as an anti-bullying advocate.

Ladies and gentlemen, please welcome author, journalist and entrepreneur... Jessica Abo.
