

Jon Entine Introduction

Ladies and Gentlemen, it is my pleasure to introduce you to a man who is redefining science as we know it...

He is a savvy entrepreneur, who is the founder and director of the Science Literacy Project, which gives journalists the knowledge and tools to tackle complex science stories, and which oversees the Genetic Literacy Project as well as the Epigenetics Literacy Project...

He is a respected researcher, who was a senior fellow for the World Food Center's Institute for Food and Agricultural Literacy at the University of California-Davis, who was a fellow at the Center for Risk and Health Communication at George Mason University, and who was a visiting fellow at the American Enterprise Institute, focusing on science and communication...

And he is an esteemed media guru, who is a regular commentator on NPR, BBC, CNN, MSNBC, Al Jazeera, and Fox Business, who has written and edited seven books, and who spent 19 years as a network television producer.

Ladies and Gentlemen, please welcome a renowned educator and communicator, Jon Entine.
