

Ladies and Gentleman,

Now it's my privilege to introduce you to a world-class finance expert...

an agile and savvy professional, who has worked to secure the financial future of Jewish National Fund with pride and passion, a master of advising donors, with more than two and a half decades of experience, and a legend in the world of financial planning, having served as faculty at the College of Financial Planning in Denver and given more than 200 lectures nationwide to some of the most prominent philanthropists of our time,

Ladies and gentleman, please welcome our Chief Planned Giving Officer, Matt Bernstein.