

Nathan Miller Introduction

Ladies and Gentleman, it is my privilege to introduce to you to one the top strategists charged with telling the story of the Jewish state on the global stage...

He is a seasoned communicator, who served as the director of speechwriting for Israel's Permanent Mission to the United Nations under Ambassador Ron Prosr, and was instrumental in crafting some of the most acclaimed and highly scrutinized speeches delivered to the UN in recent memory...

He is a talented writer and policy expert, recognized by the Ma'ariv newspaper as one of "ten young Jews who will change the world", whose work has been featured in the New York Times, the Wall Street Journal, the L.A. Times, and previously served as the policy director of the Homeland Security Advisory Council, and as Goldman fellow at the Transatlantic Institute in Brussels...

And he is an accomplished entrepreneur, who heads Miller Ink, a strategic communications firm that helps CEO's, policymakers, and non-profits to tell their stories.

Ladies and Gentleman, please welcome, Nathan Miller.