

Zeev Ben-Shachar Introduction

Ladies and gentlemen, it's now my privilege to introduce you to a valued and valuable partner in realizing Jewish National Fund's mission...

He is a renowned speaker, who lectures about Israel around the world—at synagogues, youth movements, Jewish federations, college campuses, and international conferences...

He is a trusted authority, who frequently publishes articles in “ejewishphilanthropy” and “The Times of Israel,” and is a recurring guest on a range of Israeli television and radio networks, including Channel 20, i24 News and the Voice of Israel...

And he is a talented educator, who received Harvard University's certificate of distinction for excellence while serving as a teaching fellow at the school and now works to develop curricula about Israeli history and society that reaches over 16,000 people across North America.

Ladies and gentlemen, please welcome Jerusalem U's Director of Israel Education, Zeev Ben-Shachar!
